Eaton Proposes Plan To Avoid Big Tax Jump

School Committee To Meet Architects

The school committee will interview architects at a special meeting Apr. 26.

The move was taken after motions at Tuesday night's meeting to appoint the architects who drew up preliminary addition plans for the West and Shawsheen schools lacked a second.

Another suggestion by Member Albert Cole to hire the firm of Anderson-Nichols of Boston received unfavorable comment, with several committee members expressing their desire to see some of the schools built by the firm before considering it.

Short Term Loans This Year; Bond Issues Next Year

Bond issues authorized by the annual and special town meetings may not cost Andover taxpayers a single penny in 1955.

Moreover, the impact of the bond issues on the 1956 tax rate may be considerably lessened.

In a novel approach to the problem of borrowing some $1,995,000 approved by the town's voters, Treasurer Thaxter Eaton has suggested borrowing $325,000 this summer on a short term loan. Interest payments would be deferred on this amount until January, 1956.

Next February, Mr. Eaton proposes, the town could raise $995,000 through bond issues. From that amount, the summer loan and interest on it would be paid.

The town would not borrow the balance of $1,000,000 until it is needed, Mr. Eaton declared.

He suggested the plan in an effort to save taxpayers as much as possible and still provide the funds for major projects voted at town meeting. Boston banking experts are now studying the proposal, Mr. Eaton said.

34 PERSONS LAUD McINTYRE AS COACH

30 parents and friends of McIntyre related their experiences with him. All were favorable, with spokesmen for the group insisting that Mr. McIntyre had valuable qualifications for the job.

School committee members Roy Russell, Dorothy Partridge and Chairman Anna Greeley voted for McIntyre on a voice vote.

Secretary William Doherty voted
"no" and Member Albert Cole was recorded as not voting. He had originally moved that Drummond Bissett be named coach, but withdrew the motion following lengthy debate. Later, Mr. Doherty seconded the motion but it had been withdrawn.

Several members of the board and some of those attending the meeting to speak for Mr. McIntyre expressed extreme displeasure with the publicity given the failure of the board to name Mr. McIntyre at its meeting two weeks ago.

Should Admit Mistake

Mrs. Partridge, debating the subject just prior to the vote,
said she felt that the committee should feel free to acknowledge its mistake, if a mistake was made. She expressed the opinion that the group of parents and friends speaking earlier for McIntyre represented a substantial group favoring him.

Chairman Greeley suggested that there had been no one present opposed to Mr. McIntyre, indicating that there was not substantial opposition to his retention as coach.

She pointed out that those opposed to Coach McIntyre could easily have appeared, as did those favoring him.

Member Albert Cole, in first moving the election of Mr. Bissett, said he believes the football team has not had the proper coaching. He said it had been his opinion, from seeing the games, that Mr. McIntyre's coaching was not as good as wanted from a football coach.

Doherty Casts "No" Vote

Member Doherty, speaking at the committee session, said he did not feel that "McIntyre was the man for the job" in 1953 and still does not. He cast the only negative vote on the motion to relect McIntyre.

Russell Moves Reelection

Member Roy Russell expressed indignation at the publicity given the situation. He moved that McIntyre and the assistants be re-elected, with Mrs. Partridge seconding the motion.

The opinion, expressed by parents speaking to the board, that this will be Mr. McIntyre's first year handling boys who have not first been under the training of another coach, was given substantial weight by the committee.

Mr. Russell pointed out that fairness demands giving the man an opportunity for another year.

Erickson Explained Position

Supt. Edward I. Erickson, both at the meeting with parents and later, at the session of the committee, pointed out that he had spoken to Mr. McIntyre at the suggestion of the school committee. He said he was not instigating any move to dismiss him as coach but of course followed the dictates of the committee.

At the earlier session, held in the auditorium, Charles O. McCul-lom was the first speaker.

Several Speak for McIntyre

He was followed by A. H. Damon, 47 School st., who told of his feelings for Mr. McIntyre and explained the methods he observed him to use in handling the boys.

Arthur G. Schwarzenberg next related his experiences with Mr.
McIntyre and the way he handled special problems of students on the football squad.

Walter Fiedler, 36 Chandler cir., next addressed the committee. He lauded Mr. McIntyre for his work.

Harold Walker, assistant director of athletics at Northeastern university, was introduced to the board. He spoke about Mr. McIntyre, telling the audience that he believes him to be a good coach. The men worked together at Northeastern.

At the outset of the session,
Mr. McCullom asked member William Doherty about newspaper accounts of the board's action and its opinions.

Doherty Explains Position

Mr. Doherty explained that, despite an executive session, he received two telephone calls from different staff members of a newspaper relating the whole story to him. Later, he said, when asked reasons for the move,
he told the reasons he had heard.
Doherty said he had not been speaking for the board in his remarks, however.

The following persons appeared in behalf of Mr. McIntyre according to a list circulated through the auditorium:

C. O. McCullom, W. C. Fiedler,
H. L. Ortstein, E. Best, H. A.
Walker, J. L. Hamilton, Admiral
Holsteen, U.S.N., W. T. Dwyer, R. T. Stefani, Elizabeth M. Stefani, Alice Clegg, Norma Gillis, Grace B. Ortstein, Loretta M.
Spinney, Yvonne Burge, Edward
M. Munroe, Winston A. Blake,
Donald S. Anderson, Henry G.
Holt.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. A. H.
Damon, John E. Twigg, H. E.
Heseltine, A. R. Swenson, Philip
C. Spinney, H. C. Wadman, Arthur G. Schwarzenburg, Ernest J.

Clegg Jr., Charles Bowman,
Alexander Ritchie Jr., John E.
Ceranin, Arthur B. Lavelly, Rita O'Hagan, John McDonald and Norman Reidy.

Mutual Agreement

Mr. Erickson, called upon at the meeting with parents to express his opinion, said the board felt, last December, that an improvement could be made and instructed him to talk with Mr.
McIntyre.

Erickson told the board just before the meeting that Mr. McIntyre had then agreed to resign if the committee still felt that way in April. He changed his mind, Mr. Erickson reported, and now will not offer his resignation.

Mr. Erickson said he did not believe the board acted on his recommendation, rather, it was a sort of mutual agreement that some improvement could be made in the coaching. He pointed out that giving Mr. McIntyre another year would be all right with him, but expressed the personal opinion that Coach McIntyre did not get as much from the material he had as might have been obtained.

PLAN FAIR

The Friendly Guild of Christ church is planning a fair and supper to be held in the Parish House

Plucky Parakeet Defies Death

Parakeets are hardy fellows. That's the lesson to be learned from "Handsome", pet of the Robert Wilkie household, 221 So. Main st.

When "Handsome", a green and yellow bird, took off Mar. 25, it didn't look like she had much of a chance. That night, to the dismay of the anxious family, it snowed and again the next day the snow fell.

As everyone has read, parakeets are supposed to avoid even a draft — but this plucky bird flew around for a whole week without apparently minding the weather at all.

It was Apr. 1 when Mrs. George Hurst, 14 Harding st., called Mrs. Wilkie and reported the bird safe and sound. Seems the plucky parakeet just flew down and landed on the shoulder of her son.

Saw Townsman Ad

She read the lost and found column in the Townsman and was able to return her unexpected visitor promptly.

Even while Mrs. Hurst was making arrangements to return the bird, she had a telephone message from another woman who had lost a parakeet.

Pelletier Parakeet Gone

Still a third bird is loose this week, as "Chi-Chi", the pretty lime colored parakeet belonging to the Gerard Pelletier family, 7 Maple ct., flew out the door Monday.

Ten-year-old Geraldine is heartbroken because her pet is gone. All the children in the neighborhood were out whistling for the errant bird Monday, but to no avail.

Mrs. Pelletier reports that the bird can't talk but is extremely friendly.

People with intelligence enough to know what they deserve seldom complain about being unjustly treated.

Garden Planning In Spring

And how their fingers do itch for the feel of the damp, cool soil.

As the spring planting days draw ever closer; as the sun lingers and spreads its warmth over the land 'till early evening; there are those who begin to yearn for the touch of the earth.

They just can't wait to get out into the garden — whether its a small plot just behind the house or a larger piece of land. They have spring fever — but in a nice, pleasant productive way.

Their thoughts turn not at all to the pleasures of watching a ball game or swimming in the cold Atlantic.

No, they are planning. Will it be another good year for tomatoes? Or should another row of beans be planted?

Perhaps zinnias would look better than the marigolds did last year in that corner bed. Or will some of those wonderful tuberous begonias grow out at the back door where there isn't much sunshine?

Those are the thoughts and the ideas of the best spring fever. For they are productive — though admittedly leisurely — thoughts. When the day comes for the first shovel full of earth to be turned, one will know just where each row of vegetables is going; what kind of fertilizer should be spread on the receptive ground.

But on one thing, no man can plan.

Will the weather be good for growing? That question, held in the back of one's mind, knowing there to be no answer. It is the bane of a gardener's existence.

For if there is too much rain, the tomatoes may split and crack. An early downpouring may wash away tender plants or rot the seeds in the ground.

Many are the hazards of the gardener but chief among them is that recurrent weather problem. For, no matter how one may plan; no matter how thoroughly one may plant a garden; the weather can always destroy the work of many hours.

But even in that unpredictability there is a certain amount of pleasure. For what fun would there be in planting a garden that was certain to come up, grow according to plan, and produce its crop most bountifully — all without thought or creative work on the part of man. The work invested in the garden, if guaranteed of complete success, would soon become a bore.

All in all, this is a good time of year. Now is the time when memories of work and accomplishment of a year ago mingle with plans for the spring and summer to come. Now is the time when men and women can plan and dream.

It is the time when their fingers begin to itch.

First Practice Held In Academy's Shells

Rowing, the newest sport at Phillips academy, got underway this week at the Lawrence Canoe club.

Using three shells, 38 academy youngsters began their first practice and instruction session Monday afternoon.

The town public works board's refusal of permission to use Haggitt's pond for practice rowing has little effect on the academy's plans. Coach William Brown pointed out that, although the Canoe club is near the falls, there is an area where the current is not too strong. It will be perfectly safe for the students, he declared.

Tentative plans for the season include travelling to Springfield sometime in May, he explained. There, the academy shells will meet those of Springfield high school, using the Connecticut river for the meet.

Mr. Brown explained that 107 students at the academy indicated interest in the sport, but the number was cut to 38 because only three shells are available. One shell each has been assigned for the seniors, upper and lower classes, he said.

SEVERAL ARCHITECTS TO BE INTERVIEWED

Mrs. Dorothy Partridge and Chairman Anna Greeley both expressed a desire to see the work of the firm.

It was pointed out that a representative of the Anderson-Nichols firm called on most members of the committee and furnished them with literature about his firm.

The motion to hire J. Radford Abbott, who drew plans for the Shawsheen school and Rich and Tucker associates, which drew plans for the West elementary school addition, was made by Mrs. Partridge. None of the remaining members seconded it.

The decision to interview several architects was made when it was pointed out that more information about other firms would be needed before a choice from a wider field could be made.

The town meeting this year authorized a $175,000 addition to the West school and an $85,000 addition to the Shawsheen school.

BIG TAX RATE JUMP AVOIDED BY EATON PLAN

$150,000 For New School

Under the plan as outlined this week by the treasurer, $150,000 would be borrowed this summer for the new high school project. It would be repaid next winter from a $775,000 bond issue.

When the high school building committee and finance committee needs the remaining one million dollars, it will be raised through another bond issue, the treasurer proposed.

West Center Addition

The town would borrow $45,000 this summer for the West Center school addition. This amount would be repaid from a $100,000 bond issue next year, he proposed. The town meeting authorized the town to spend $175,000 for the addition, with $75,000 coming from available funds.

Drainage Big Item

In a third step, the town would borrow $130,000 under authorized drainage expenditures. Next Year, the full $145,000 bond issue would repay the summer loan and clear up the remaining expenditures under the drainage items.

Mr. Eaton pointed out that the town probably would want to get the drainage work underway quickly, getting as much as possible accomplished during the summer. Thus, his plan provided for borrowing most of the authorized amount on the short term basis. An additional $76,000 will be spent on drainage but was not voted as a bond issue by town meeting.

Avoids Big Rate Jump

"This is a new way of handling bond issues," Mr. Eaton acknowledged. However, he pointed out that borrowing the entire $1,995,000 would boost the 1956 tax rate by at least $7.

The 1956 rate will certainly be increased to some degree, he has explained, because $995,000 will be borrowed that year and some of the interest and principal payments will come due. But the steeper climb will be avoided that year, by delaying action on the million dollar high school balance.

$55,000 Payment Due

Mr. Eaton has also pointed out that the town will pay $55,000 on the West Center school bond issue, plus interest, again this year. There is a balance of $631,000 to be repaid on that account, he said.

SERVICE CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

Mr. Mack will discuss the future economy of the nation and plans to describe the rapid development of the automobile industry. The title of his talk will be "America's Best Spring Tonic, Competition".
